

The new Audi S5 Coupé.
Driving redesigned.

Progressive design and a sporty driving experience

In a league of its own, the new Audi S5 Coupé is a unique competitor among high-performance coupes. Thanks to its combination of V8 FSI technology and quattro permanent four-wheel drive, the eight-cylinder engine with its superb power delivery has worthy counterparts in the specially tuned sports suspension and high-performance brakes. Subtle, but clear design elements inside and out serve to distinguish this coupé as a high performance athlete in a league of its own.

The Audi S5 speaks for itself – its design takes Audi's progressive and stylish design language to new heights. The sporty silhouette, the precisely drawn lines, which gracefully interplay with the powerful surfaces, the expressive front face, and the equally distinctive tail end yield a wholly desirable coupé.

The new Audi S5 Coupé premiered at the 2007 Melbourne International Motor Show and will be officially launched in Australia late 2007.
