It's great when you no longer have to prove yourself.
Yet still push yourself to the limit.

The new Cayenne Turbo S. Above it all.

The sum of all ideas that make up the fascinating appeal of the Cayenne SUV, combined in one model – the new Cayenne Turbo S.

Consequently, we've gone all out with regard to one of the original aspects of the Cayenne Turbo S: exclusivity. Elegant, sophisticated. Selected materials wherever you look and feel, from leather and a range of fine woods to carbon fiber. Interior equipment taken to new heights.

Talking of which, this has always been the most powerful Cayenne model. Yet our engineers have now succeeded in enhancing its performance still further. From 550 to 570 hp. From adrenaline to even more adrenaline. Simply breathtaking.

Thanks to additional technologies fitted as standard, such as Porsche Dynamic Chassis Control (PDCC), Porsche Torque Vectoring Plus (PTV Plus) and air suspension with Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM), it offers greater driving dynamics than any other vehicle in this segment.

Standing head and shoulders above anything else.

An excellent examples of this: the race-proven Porsche Ceramic Composite Brake (PCCB) and LED headlights with Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS+), both fitted as standard.

Enormous potential wrapped up in an eye-pleasing package: the car is more refined, more precise than ever. The sharper front section lending it even greater presence.

The result? Maximum appeal for even the most discerning driver. This means that the Cayenne Turbo S remains the ultimate powerhouse in the Cayenne family. With regard to dynamic agility and handling, as well as design and equipment. It is a clear statement. For the road. For giving it your all. And achieving it all.

The most powerful form of acceleration?
When you leave the world behind.

Drive and chassis: beyond compare.

An enduring Porsche principle: maximum performance. Uncompromisingly embodied by the new Cayenne Turbo S. At its heart, a 4.8-liter twin-turbo V8 engine.

An output of 570 hp is complemented by maximum torque of 590 lb.-ft. – between 2,500 and 4,000 rpm. 0 to 60 mph in 3.8 seconds and a top track speed of 176 mph. The figures alone are enough to set your pulse racing. Not to mention the driving experience itself. However, superlative performance is not expressed in power alone, but also in efficiency levels. These are impressively high thanks to technologies such as VarioCam Plus, charge-air cooling, the Auto Start Stop function and direct fuel injection (DFI). This injects fuel directly into the combustion chamber with millisecond precision – designed for an optimum air/fuel mix and enhanced combustion. Active air flaps ensure optimized aerodynamics – thereby boosting fuel economy.

Power is transmitted to the road with precision by Porsche Traction Management (PTM) active all-wheel drive. This helps to ensure optimum distribution of force – for greater traction and driving dynamics.

Fitted as standard, 8-speed Tiptronic S translates this power into phenomenal drive. Fast, sporty gear changes are enabled by the two gearshift paddles on the standard multifunction sports steering wheel derived from the 918 Spyder super sports car.

If you want to stand above all else, you need a strong foundation. On the Cayenne Turbo S, this is provided by the chassis. It comes with air suspension featuring self-leveling and ride-height control with Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM).

Self-leveling ensures a constant ride height. The ground clearance can be adjusted using the rocker switch on the center console. PASM actively and continuously adjusts the damping force on each wheel, based on road conditions and driving style. You can select one of three modes: Comfort, SPORT or SPORT PLUS. For an even sportier setup and greater stability. The results: either more comfort or much more agile, dynamic handling.

This is further helped by Porsche Torque Vectoring Plus (PTV Plus), also included as standard, with variable torque distribution to the rear wheels and electronically controlled rear differential. By applying brake pressure selectively to the left or right wheel, it enhances steering response and precision.

Standard Porsche Dynamic Chassis Control (PDCC) optimizes road holding and driving dynamics still further and reduces lateral body movement when cornering.

For even greater control, Power steering Plus adapts the steering forces based on the vehicle speed. For exceptional steering comfort at all times.

Well designed and extremely powerful. As you'd expect of a Turbo. And a Porsche. Built to leave the whole world behind.

Sometimes awestruck silence is the loudest form of applause.

Exterior: unparalleled.

The only style that makes you stand out from the crowd: your own. The Cayenne Turbo S has its own particular character that is reflected in its consistent design and straight lines. With the presence that only a Porsche Turbo model possesses. And a true understanding of refinement.

The front: powerful. From the bonnet and front wings to the design of the standard LED headlights with Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS+). Every detail underlines the car's athletic prowess. The large central air intake is an unmistakable reference to the enormous power reserves within.

This brings us to the side view, which is sporty, dynamic and typically Porsche. The coupé-style lines flow down to the muscular rear wings. The tailgate with tapered screen sports a chrome-plated 'Cayenne turbo S' logo: the signature, so to speak, of our performance promise.

Exclusive to the Cayenne Turbo S: 21-inch 911 Turbo Design wheels with a polished rim flange and inner black finish (high-gloss) with full-color Porsche Crest.

For striking styling at the rear: dual twin-tube tailpipes in highly polished aluminum. For performance that you can hear as well as feel.

Of course, everyone loves a round of applause. However, awestruck silence is often the greatest form of recognition.

Everybody needs a place in which to gather their strength.

Interior: stunning.

You feel it long before you start the engine. In fact, as soon as you take hold of the multifunction sports steering wheel with gearshift paddles. High standards of ergonomics, combined with pioneering design.

Adding to the race-inspired look, the rising center console reduces the distance between the steering wheel and the most important vehicle controls. The five round instruments with ‘turbo S’ logo on the tachometer are another clear statement – and a reference to the car’s unconditional performance.

As well as setting your pulse racing, the interior is guaranteed to meet all of your requirements with regard to comfort. Starting with the two-tone leather interior in Black/Cream, only available as standard for the Cayenne Turbo S. There are also a number of other stylish design elements such as black floor mats featuring allround edging in contrasting color and the ‘PORSCHE’ logo.

The car also comes with an elegant carbon fiber interior package. The decorative trim on the instrument panel and front and rear doors, decorative panel on the center console and Tiptronic S gear selector are all finished in aluminum. The door entry guards with ‘Cayenne turbo S’ logo are in stainless steel. Another mark of heightened sports performance.

In addition to a range of colors, there’s also a choice of interior packages, e.g. in a selection of fine woods. For even more individual luxury, the roof lining and a number of other elements are finished in Alcantara®: pleasing to the touch, it also offers race-proven durability.

Adaptive sports seats with comfort memory package combine outstanding comfort with the sporty seat position typical of Porsche. Thanks to 18-way electric adjustment, they can be optimally adapted to suit your needs. The head restraints on the front and outer rear seats feature an embossed Porsche Crest.

In short: a space in which to gather your strength. And explore it to the full.

Interior – the highlights.

Deeply relaxed.
Thanks to the highest standards.

Balance: everything considered.

High levels of performance and dynamic agility. Undoubtedly appealing. When it comes to Porsche we only accept the highest possible standards.

The Porsche Ceramic Composite Brake (PCCB) offers a faster and more precise response – especially when braking at high speeds, due to its excellent fade resistance. Incidentally, PCCB is fitted as standard on the Cayenne Turbo S as a further expression of the car's exclusivity.

Design meets balance: the standard LED headlights with Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS+) provide distinctive styling and optimum illumination of the road. In addition to the dynamic and static cornering light function, dynamic range control and adverse weather function, PDLS+ offers two further functions: Dynamic High Beam and Intersection Assistant.

LED technology is also used on the rear light modules. In an emergency stop, the adaptive brake lights pulsate to alert the traffic behind more quickly.

We don't hold back when it comes to optimum support.

Comfort: boundless.

Less is more? We prefer: more is more. Especially when it comes to offering a driving experience that is exclusive enough to set your pulse racing.

Featuring an intuitive 7-inch high-resolution color touchscreen display, PCM is the central control system for all information and communication functions: for the navigation module with high-speed hard drive, radio, CD/DVD drive, sound settings, on-board computer and telephone. Many other functions, e.g. online services, are available as an option.

Our view of the standard BOSE® Surround Sound System with a total output of 585 watts and 14 loudspeakers? It's probably one of the few sounds that can measure up to the throaty roar of a Porsche Turbo engine.

For a truly exclusive aural experience, there's the optional Burmester® High-End Surround Sound System: with a total output of more than 1,000 watts, 16 loudspeakers and a 16-channel amplifier. Superior bass foundation is delivered by the 300-watt active subwoofer.

The instrument cluster with its high-resolution 4.8-inch color display shows Tire Pressure Monitoring System (TPMS) as well as maps for the navigation system and on-board computer data.

Useful during performance driving: the Sport Chrono Package included as standard comprises an analog and digital timer, the longitudinal and lateral acceleration display in the instrument cluster and a performance display, which shows the total driving time, distance covered on the current lap and lap times.

The package also includes the SPORT PLUS function: for even more Porsche temperament at the push of a button. The Performance Start function ensures optimum acceleration when pulling away.

As you can see, more is more. And, when it comes to the Cayenne Turbo S: not just more of anything, but of that certain something.

The Cayenne Turbo S. Exactly our style.
And yours.
