The way to your Porsche	52

What's the most important tool required to create true value?
Natural instinct.

It takes time to craft something truly exceptional. It requires tranquility, concentration and commitment. It needs dedication and the hands, heart and soul of a skilled person, as true value does not originate solely from the work of machines. Special things can only be created if people, masters of their craft, use their hands and their expertise, their ideas and their personality. This is and always has been the way Porsche works – and so it will continue.

Finesse. Passion. Craftsmanship.
This is how the Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur turns dreams into reality.

Each Porsche is something truly special. For one simple reason: you can sense the passion of each individual employee, right down to the last detail. This passion is the reason why the exceptional is created time and time again. The result? Vehicles full of personality and character.

This is how Porsche Exclusive designs impressive unique specimens, carefully finished according to your individual requirements. In addition to these special customer vehicles, our Exclusive Manufaktur also creates limited edition small series which epitomise our passion and expertise. This is evident from the 'Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur' plaque on the sides of the vehicle – a unique signature provided on each small series produced in this special place.

Our hands play an important role in the production and finishing. They turn something special into something unique, and are often the only tool that can do justice to our high demands. When fitting, painting and polishing or when cutting and stitching various materials, whether high-quality leather, wood, carbon, Alcantara or aluminium, we dedicate our full attention to each individual detail and take our time to finish to perfection. Our objective is to instil each vehicle with that certain something that makes it capable of achieving even more individuality and character. It is belief in this principle that has led to the creation of exceptional collector's pieces over the last decade. An example is the 911 Sport Classic from 2009 which was limited to 250 cars and combines typical Porsche tradition and modernity in one work of art.

The time has come to portray this dedication in a very special model series. Taking the Panamera Turbo S Executive as a basis, for the first time we have created a highly exclusive small series of the Panamera range, limited to 100 cars worldwide – the Panamera Exclusive Series.

The rarer, the more precious.
A principle that also applies at Porsche.

The Panamera Exclusive Series. A Panamera like no other before. A Turbo with a performance promise beyond all conventions. An S, that at Porsche has always stood for more power and more sportiness. In short: a top-class sports car without compromise, but with lots of comfort. With four seats. With an extended body. With outstanding performance and enough space for everything that's important in life. Irreconcilable opposites? Not at all.

It is precisely these contradictions that have breathed life into the Panamera Turbo S Executive – pushing it to the limit. The result: comfort and luxurious travel working in a high-performance athlete with supreme efficiency and boasting dynamics that typify Porsche.

To make the Panamera Turbo S Executive part of the Panamera Exclusive Series, we have provided it with stylistically confident finishing. With great dedication and elegant details. With a particularly exquisite leather interior package from Poltrona Frau, one of the most renowned leather manufacturers in the world. With a unique blended paintwork both outside and on selected decorative elements in the interior, offering the fascination for the exceptional that has always characterised Porsche Exclusive. Many of the details, both outside and inside, have been finished by hand. This is the only way to achieve true value with individual character.

A limited edition plaque above the glove compartment alongside its personal model number emphasises this high level of commitment. It stands as a constant reminder that you are languishing in the most luxurious Panamera series of all time. It is also the most exclusive, being strictly limited to precisely 100 cars worldwide.

Shape and colour.

The first draft of a new Porsche. Quickly sketched with a calm hand and a sure line. The most important tools are a hand and pen. “You don’t need anything else”, according to Michael Mauer, who has been the Chief Designer at Porsche since 2004. It is under his lead that the design for the Panamera came about. Mauer, as he says, “always” draws his sketches in a small book. Sometimes even while he’s having breakfast. So what becomes of such a sketch? More than a sports car. Mauer’s small book is filled with numerous model sketches that provide an insight into the Porsche design language of tomorrow. In doing so, each line holds a respect for the past, but carries the Porsche DNA into the future.

But how do you create something special? How is a timeless design achieved? Difficult questions. Simple answer. “Proportions. They are fundamental. Everything else is more or less subject to the spirit of the times. However, the typical shape and the stature of a Porsche is the same for each model.” What of the paintwork? “This plays a crucial role, as it lends the model its individual character. But it too is always subject to social changes and fashion influences.”

“Warm colours, like the brown chosen for the leather and the paintwork, radiate calm and stability. These are attractive values in an increasingly mobile society”, according to Mauer. Black, however, holds a timeless elegance. “Colours change and even automobile design has altered dramatically. However, the processes have remained the same”, explains Mauer. First, the idea in your head. Then the visualisation – initially as a sketch, then as a scale model, and finally as a 1:1 model. Much of this is carried out by hand.

Each piece of art carries the signature of its creator.

State of the art design. Clear lines. Unmistakable Porsche. The design language of the Panamera Exclusive Series also follows these principles. The wings are higher than the bonnet, the distinctive air intakes and a powerfully crafted rear with a descending roofline create a striking design. The strong shoulders and the window line tapering towards the rear are both design elements that are typical of Porsche, which also make the Panamera Exclusive Series unmatched – further emphasised by the exclusive details.

The paintwork is distinctive. The basis: Jet Black Metallic. The special feature: a unique blended paintwork in Chestnut Brown Metallic. A soft blend and yet also a strong contrast that starts at the front wings and extends across the front doors towards the rear where it ends on the doors, again in Jet Black Metallic. Precisely calculated and therefore identically reproducible, the blended paintwork combines a significant degree of engineering skill with outstanding craftsmanship. Two-tone exclusivity is reflected again in the interior. Here, selected decorative elements have been finished with an appropriate blended paintwork. Symbolic for the claim of Porsche

Exclusive – creating that something special. Additionally symbolic for the exceptional expertise of our employees.

It is difficult to achieve the perfect result, but the fundamental process is extremely easy. One man. One day. One vehicle. Each vehicle of the Panamera Exclusive Series with this unusual colour is painted by hand, by an experienced specialist. A master of their craft.

Do you attach importance to exclusive details? So do we. Already at the first glance it is clear that the Panamera Exclusive Series is many things, but ordinary isn't one of them. The elaborate blended paintwork is that first unmistakable sign that the Panamera Exclusive Series is something truly special. A fact that is further emphasised by the carefully selected details.

The black LED main headlights including Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS+) are elegantly incorporated in the powerful front design of the Panamera Exclusive Series, impressively highlighting the sportiness of the vehicle. The painted exterior mirror lower trims lend further stylish accents in the same way as the 20-inch Sport Classic wheels painted in Jet Black Metallic.*

Together they make sure that the Panamera Exclusive Series leaves an impression where it matters - on the road.

The smoked LED taillights on the rear and the four-way deploying rear spoiler** painted in the exterior colour also ensure a dynamic appearance, powerfully rounded off by the painted SportDesign rear apron and the round sports tailpipes in polished chrome.

Fine detail and an unmistakable sign of ultimate exclusivity: the hand-finished 'Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur' plaque on the sides of the vehicle. It confidently showcases the handcrafted origins of the Panamera Exclusive Series and invokes emotions even before you reach the vehicle.

Particularly the anticipation of getting in to the car and driving it.

A close-up photograph of a car's interior, focusing on the leather upholstery. The seat features a perforated leather texture in a light tan color, with blue stitching visible along the edges. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture and contours of the seat. A dark horizontal bar is overlaid on the right side of the image, containing the text "Comfort and luxury." in white.

“True value is evident from the dedication with which it has been created.”

‘L’intelligenza delle mani’ – the intelligence of the hands. This corporate philosophy of Poltrona Frau receives visitors as a logo by the entrance gate and describes the ethos that emanates within the factory halls. For more than 100 years, this company has processed and finished exclusively high-quality leather to a calibre that makes it worthy of the famous trademark of Poltrona Frau.

“The level of quality that we endeavour to reach can only be achieved by the skilful hands of our specialist employees”, explains Roberto Archetti, Brand Director of the company. For many years, the leather produced here has been reserved for use in the most exclusive of furnishings. Today, the impeccably finished Poltrona Frau leather also contributes to the comfort that exudes from selected prestige vehicles.

“It is not just the control throughout all the phases of the leather processing – from the tanning through to the division and then the stitching that is important to us. It is primarily the perfect workmanship in the processing for which Poltrona Frau is renowned. Only this way can we preserve the leather’s natural qualities.”

Archetti is evidently proud of the skilled abilities of the company’s employees: “The experience and care of each individual is reflected in the Poltrona Frau leather in every end product. Each structure is individual, full of character and has a natural texture.”

The result is tangible: a leather with a luxurious appearance and outstanding haptics. “This feeling of natural warmth as your fingers glide over the leather. The strength. The spicy fragrance. An exceptionally sensual leather that you would probably find only in Italy.” And in the Panamera Exclusive Series of course.

High performance has always been our passion. Why should the interior be any different?

It is true to say that the space at the front left plays the leading role at Porsche – in the Panamera Exclusive Series the drive in the rear also becomes an experience of a very special kind.

The first impression when you get in? Luxurious comfort. Craftsmanship. The interior reflects the dedication and the all-encompassing skill of the Porsche Exclusive Manufaktur – discreetly signed by the limited edition plaque on the trim strip of the dashboard.

The specific two-tone interior package of black smooth-finish leather and Poltrona Frau leather in Agatha Chestnut Brown entices each passenger with a traditional look, a comfortable natural feel and sophisticated accents. Evident from the first glance: the unique perforation design of the seats. Each individual perforation bears the shape of a small Porsche Crest.

The stitching in the interior has been carefully attuned to the elegant interplay of the colours – partially single-tone and partially contrasting.

The natural feel of the leather, the comfortable upholstery of the seats and the integrated seat heating and seat ventilation allow a sporty drive, concentrated work time or relaxed travel. It's your choice. Comfort headrests adorned with embossed Porsche Crests, an electric 14-way adjustment at the front alongside electric backrest adjustment, seat cushion length adjustment and lumbar support for the rear seats simply round off the whole driving experience.

The excellent quality of the Poltrona Frau leather in Agatha Chestnut Brown is also evident on the armrests, the door pulls and other door elements, on the centre console as well as the dashboard lower section. The stylish ambience is completed by numerous additional details clad in black leather, such as the sun visors, the steering column casing, the Porsche Communication Management (PCM) surround and the air vent slats.

Allow your eyes to roam over the interior of the Panamera Exclusive Series and you'll soon discover yet another example of true craftsmanship – the blended paintwork in Piano Finish Black on the dark walnut trim. The blended colour of the exterior paintwork is picked out again on the trim strips of the doors. The harmonious overall concept of the interior is rounded off by high-quality deep-pile floor mats with a discrete edging in Agatha Chestnut Brown leather.

An ideal interior climate is provided at the touch of a button. The four-zone automatic climate control allows you to control the temperature in the interior for all four seats individually. The thermally and noise insulated glass including privacy glass maintains discretion. In addition, the interior lighting package coupled with the electric roll-up sunblinds in the rear and on the rear side windows, allow you to work or relax, be it night or day.

The extensive equipment package also includes Porsche Entry & Drive, soft-close doors and the large centre console in the rear, which, alongside a 230-volt socket and two 12-volt sockets, can also include a cooling compartment upon request. Conveniences which are further intensified by additional comfort features such as the folding tables finished in wood and the footrests in the rear.

Opening the doors reveals the high-quality, chrome-plated and illuminated door sill guards provided with the 'Exclusive Series' logo. Yet another poignant detail that invokes emotions even before you start the engine.

Sporty driving, concentrated working or comfortable relaxing – shape your journey as you wish in the Panamera Exclusive Series.

The cabin ergonomics are typical Porsche – sporty. The ascending centre console shortens the distance between the steering wheel and the gear selector. The grouping of the control panel elements provides quick access to all functions. The limited edition plaque on the dashboard trim strip, finished by hand, bears witness to the luxurious exclusivity of the Panamera Exclusive Series.

The multifunction steering wheel with contrasting stitching forms an elegant pairing with the PDK gear selector in aluminium, enabling access to the Porsche Communication Management (PCM) – the central control unit for audio, navigation and communication. However, if your hand does leave the wheel, the leather-clad armrest of the centre console is positioned directly beneath it and represents a stylish transition towards the rear.

There you will be received by the new Porsche Rear Seat Entertainment Plus, specially developed for the considerable requirements of a Porsche. The two separate 10.1-inch touchscreens on the backrests of the front seats, integrated DVD drive, Bluetooth® headsets, SD card slot and the optional WLAN router with LTE technology offer you all manner of options.

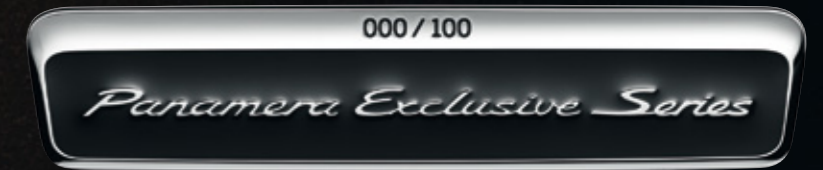

Everything from video conferencing through to watching live football broadcasts. Set your perfect sound on the sound system via Bluetooth® connection to the PCM.

Let's talk about the sound system. To provide musical enjoyment with the highest possible sound quality, the Panamera Exclusive Series is fitted with the Burmester® High-End Surround Sound System as standard. Developed by one of the most renowned audiophile providers in the world, it boasts a so far unparalleled natural and rich spatial sound. The figures alone are impressive: 16 amplifier channels with over 1,000 watts total output, 16 loudspeakers including a 300-watt active subwoofer and a Class D amplifier.

In addition to such acoustics there really are only two alternatives. Silence, or the rich engine sound of the Panamera Exclusive Series. Typically Porsche.

Power and consistency.

“396 km/h at the end of the Mulsanne. That takes a cool head. And lots of dexterity.”

The appeal of the sports car: there are few people who have lived life to the full as successfully as Derek Bell MBE. Five overall victories at the 24 Hours of Le Mans, three in Daytona, two consecutive drivers' titles at the World Sports Car Championship. The 'English gentleman' celebrates his greatest victories in the best sports cars of their time. Whether the 917, 936 or 956, Bell squeezes out every ounce of potential from every Porsche... right to the limit.

His hands are of vital importance here: "Your hands on the steering wheel at speeds in excess of 300 km/h become precision instruments. Each tiny movement can have considerable consequences", says Bell, laughing. "The Nürburgring was extremely challenging. You are shaken, the car is rock-hard and you're afraid to take your hands off the wheel to change gear." It is this cocktail of genuine passion, his raw will to succeed and his confident appearance as a sporting gentleman that has made Derek Bell an icon in motorsport. Qualities that distinguish him still today – and connect him even more with the Porsche brand.

"I'm always surprised at how Porsche manages to implant this sports car feeling in all of its models", muses Bell. "It is astounding." For us, it is not astounding, just logical. Derek Bell has written motorsport history with Porsche whilst playing an essential part in ensuring that each Porsche has benefited from the experiences gained from over 30,000 racing victories. A fact that you can feel in every single Porsche, on every centimetre of the road. Even in a particularly luxurious model full of comfort – such as the Panamera Exclusive Series.

At the pinnacle of a competitive society. In every driving situation.

More performance, more dynamism: sports car principles that are also upheld in the Panamera Exclusive Series. The 4.8-litre twin-turbo V8 engine achieves 419 kW (570 hp). Its impressive maximum torque of 800 Nm is thanks to the Sport Chrono Package with overboost function, fitted as standard. It takes a mere 3.9 seconds to sprint from 0 to 100 km/h and surpasses 200 km/h in just 13.2 seconds. The top speed is 310 km/h.

It goes without saying that the appeal of a sports car is not merely reflected by the engine performance. For that typical sports car feel, we have equipped the Panamera Exclusive Series with everything you would expect to find in a Panamera Turbo S Executive.

The active all-wheel-drive Porsche Traction Management (PTM) in conjunction with Porsche Stability Management (PSM) permanently monitors the driving status and optimally distributes the power to the front and rear axles according to the driving situation. For excellent propulsion on long straights, in tight bends as well as on surfaces with varying grip.

The 7-speed Porsche Doppelkupplung (PDK) with manual and automatic modes enables fast gear changes with no discernible interruption in the flow of power.

Porsche Dynamic Chassis Control (PDCC) including Porsche Torque Vectoring Plus (PTV Plus) guarantees considerable control in lateral driving, and therefore body stabilisation too. The result: ultimate traction and agility at any speed. A precise steering feel and balanced load change performance. Even more fun in every corner.

The adaptive air suspension with Porsche Active Suspension Management (PASM) offers uncompromising sportiness or even more comfort at the touch of a button.

The Sport Chrono Package enables an even sportier tuning of the Panamera Exclusive Series with outstanding driving dynamics. Typical of a true sports car.

The Panamera Exclusive Series is equipped with the Porsche Ceramic Composite Brake (PCCB) which has been tried and tested on the racetrack. Recognisable by the yellow brake calipers, it provides a constantly high braking performance and optimised handling. The key advantage of the PCCB is the extremely low weight giving better roadholding and increased driving and ride comfort. In short, it offers an unequivocal sports car feel.

The LED main headlights with black elements including Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS+)

ensures optimum illumination of the road, supported by helpful functions such as the static and dynamic cornering lights, the adverse weather function, the dynamic main beam and the Intersection Assistant.

The ParkAssist (front and rear) is fitted as standard, enabling comfortable, easy manoeuvring and parking.

There is also the cruise control for automatic speed regulation. Upon request, you can have the adaptive cruise control including Porsche Active Safe (PAS). A radar sensor in the front controls your speed depending on the distance from the vehicle in front. The system brakes softly as the distance reduces, and will bring the car to a standstill if necessary.

The optional Lane Change Assist provides a visual warning in the exterior mirrors whenever a vehicle approaches you in the neighbouring lane.

The Lane Departure Warning is available upon request. The system will sound a warning tone whenever you steer towards a divider line marking and begin to leave the current lane without indicating.

The optional speed limit indicator displays speed limit and overtaking restrictions (start and end) in the PCM and in the instrument cluster.

Porsche Car Connect, the smartphone app, connects your Panamera Exclusive Series with the opportunities of the 21st century. It enables you to access various data relating to your car and to control certain functions remotely – irrespective of your location.

Functions that accompany you on your travels, so that you can concentrate more on the important thing about a Porsche – driving pleasure.

Conclusions.

What is luxury? A diamond? A penthouse in London? A mooring at the Croisette? Perhaps luxury is just simply a feeling. That of freedom and unlimited opportunities. The feeling of not having to make any compromises. The feeling of owning something very special. Something valuable, that isn't just exceptionally rare, but that also carries with it the skill, the experience and the passion that have created it. A true value.

The Panamera Exclusive Series.
